DEATH OF DR. JOHN DOVE .- The fraterity of Ancient, Free and Accepted Masons in Virginia, and throughout the United States, if not throughout the Masonic world. will hear with regret of the death of Dr. John Dove, of this city, which took place yestereding of the MEDICAL PROFESSION of the Historian will take place FRIDAY NIGHT of clock, at the residence of his son-in-law, William B. Isaacs, Esq., on Sixth street between Clay and Leigh.

John Dove was born in this city, Septemday morning at 3 o'clock, at the residence ber 2, 1792, in the house still standing at > the southwest corner of Broad and Fifth streets, and now owned by Marcus Harris. He received his education in this city, we believe. At a suitable age he attended the lectures at Jefferson College, Philadelphia, and there gained his diploma as a Doctor of Medicine. He engaged in the practice of his profession in this city, and contifued in it up to near the end of his long life. For many years he was physician to the city jail. He enjoyed whilst in the vigor of manhood a large practice. He was also during his life a member of the City Council for several years. Also, a member and secretary of the Board of Visitors of the Lancasterian school in this city from its formation until it was made a part of the public-school system of the State. He was for a number of years a communicant in St. John's church, and his daily walk and converversation were such as became his profession. In every relation of life Dr. Dove was a model man. Kind, courteous, intelligent, THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ANNUAL STOCKHOLDERS OF THE RICHMOND AND DANYHLE RAILROAD COMPANY will be held at the effice of the company, corner Bank and Tenth streets, in the city of Richmond, on WEDNESDAY, December 13th proxime, at 12 o'clock M.

The beoks for the transfer of stock will be closed from the 22d instant until after the day of meeting, no 13-td RICHARD BROOKE, Secretary.

I model man. Kind, courteous, intelligent, and cousiderate to all, he was an honor to his native city and State. But it was as a Free Mason that he was best known. Never father toved a child more devotedly than John Doveloved Masonry. Never child loved a father more devotedly than the Masons of Virginia loved John Dove. To him more than to any other man were due the purity and excellence of "the work" in Virginia. To him more than to any other man the fraternity looked as their faithful guide, counsellor, and friend. He visited the States north of Virginia many years ago, and is understood that it will be placed in Fair-north of Virginia many years ago, and is understood that it will be placed in Fair-mount Park for a time, its ultimate destina-STOCKHOLDERS OF THE RICHMOND. Deen in vogue in Virginia, and he it was offered with the office of the company, of that imparted it to the craft in this State, whence it has been transmitted unimpaired to other States. He was, as Judge Wellford said once, a connecting link between the revolutionary fathers and the present generation. He was seven years old when General Washington died, and thirty-four when Thomas Jefferson died. Dr. Dove was in the year 1813 made a Mason in St. John's Lodge, No. 36, when its meetings were held on Cary street, opposite the old Columbian Hotel. He was an honorary member of that lodge when be died, and it is understood that his funeral ceremonies will be conducted by it. He early became a member also of Richmond Randolph Lodge, No. 19, of which he continued a contributing member all his life. He was no doubt an honorary member of other odges, all of which delighted to do him honor. Two lodges in Virginia bear his name—one of them located in this city. 6:55 A. M. and 8 P. M. Accommodation This latter lodge (of which the late T. P. August was the first master,) was in 1872 the scene of a most interesting ceremony connected with the subject of this notice. But the connecting link yet remained. John Dove sat in Richmond Randolph Lodge, No. 19, when John Marshall welcomed Lafayette on his American tour. For more than fifty-eight years the records of the Grand Lodge of Virginia attest his ever-punctual presence. He is now the oldest living grand secretary in the world. For more than half a century he has illustrated the high character of the Christian Mason, enforcing by precept and example cluding his address the speaker, with eyes resting upon the venerable form, said: "Venerable father, we would that we could tender you a leaf from the fabled cypress of Ceylon, to assure the continuance of your presence and your wisdom to guide and as-

THE MOZART LAST NIGHT .- Association Hall was filled to its utmost capacity last night on the occasion of the twenty-seventh musicale of the Mozart Association. Every available chair was occupied, and many were obliged to stand during the performance. Indeed, the large number present made the room very oppressive, and two ladies were so much overcome with faintness that they were obliged to leave. The programme, as usual, was very se-audience present. The fact that Mrs. Dr. Burwell was to aid in the evening's entertainment attracted many who had not before enjoyed the musical treats given every week by the Mozarts. Her rendition of Torand executed with great skill.

Mr. H. T. Cardoza, a rising young basso of our city, made his debut on this occasion. He possesses a powerful voice, and acquit-'Once Again"; which, by-the-bye, requires great compass of voice. The timidity caused by his first appearance was noticeaof the right of the Board to pass the resolu- ble in the second verse of the song, when he lost the key; he soon, however, regained his composure, and received a hearty ap-

The gem of the evening was the trio from Mozart's opus 26 by the Messrs. Peters. The appreciation of these artists by our than last night, for no sooner did they appear upon the stage than they were greeted with a burst of applause. Their rendition of the difficult fugue movements and the expression and emphasis throughout was truly artistic. We add our hearty congratulations to the generous appreciation evinced by their audience. The violin solo by Mr. Henry Laube was very fine, and while we were not so much pleased with the composition, the playing of Mr. Laube was clear, distinct, and pleas Professor C. W. Thilow and one of his scholars, Miss F. Rust, played a piano duo, by Fesca, in admirable style.

The orchestra was full, and in these selections added greatly to the evening's enjoyment. THE MOSAIC ENTERTAIMENT .- The entertainment to be given on the 21st of this month, at the Virginia Opera-House, by the Mosaic Club promises to be a success. Two short and very amusing plays are being earnestly studied; and judging from their rendition on the first rehearsal, we should say the caste has been admirably chosen. Tickets will not be sold at the door, and members who desire them for themselves and friends would do well to secure them as soon as possible from one of the managers or from the treasurer (Mr. John Paine), as the number is limited. The managers are Mrs. Dobbin, Mrs. James Branch, Madame De Sibourg, Mrs. J. A. Pleasants, Mrs. M. F. Pleasants, Mrs. Charles U. Williams, and Mrs. Dr. F. D. Cunningham.

EXCELSIOR CLUB.—An important meeting of this club will be held at their rooms tonight. The election of a secretary and one or two new members will take place. The style of uniform will also be adopted. No doubt
